| Updates | At the May 6 meeting of Community Living Advisory Group- Waiver Simplification Subcommittee (CLAG-WS), they used a lot of the feedback from this group's work in April, particularly around behavioral support service. Since that meeting, the final draft has been released for one more round of comments. Comments are due May 29, 2014 to CLAG-WS. Objective of this meeting is to go back through the feedback from last meeting that is compiled in the matrix (handouts). Everyone should have received a summary of the last meeting. The goals of today's meeting are to review the feedback from last time, review the definitions that have changed, and then flesh out what other feedback group members may have. This is the time to add detail, or add something that was missing. The target date for implementation of this waiver is July 2016, so the goal is to submit proposal by January 2016. | |
